Re: C0075820 – December Monthly Report (11/1/99-11/30/99)

Dear Mr. Gibson:

In response to your March 16, 2000 letter, please note that we never received the original February 25, 2000 letter from Ms. Wilkens. As the record will show, this committee has always responded to requests from the Commission in a timely fashion.

Attached, please find an amended December Monthly Report (11/1/99-11/30/99). Line 20, Column B has been corrected on the Detailed Summary Page. Schedule D has also been corrected.

The non-federal Schedule A itemizing the transfers from affiliated committees has been amended to show the duplicate deposit made relating to the administrative code "010". The original transfer was made on November 3, 1999, and was mistakenly taken again on November 30, 1999.

The event year-to-date totals on Schedule H4 have been amended to include the in-kind transactions. Further, Memo Schedule A and Memo Schedule B have been included to itemize the in-kinds.

The ratio 313-325-419 shown on Schedule H2 was correctly reported as being 15% federal and 85% non-federal. That was the same ratio reported to the Commission by the committee on the Amended November Monthly filed with the Commission December 13, 1999. There was no revision made to that ratio.

You have questioned an independent expenditure made and fully reported by this committee. Your assertion that "[t]he coordination involved in making coordinated expenditures for a candidate may preclude your committee from making an independent expenditure in support of the same candidate," does not accurately reflect current law. In Colorado Republican Federal Campaign Committee v. FEC, 518 U.S. 604 (1996), the United States Supreme Court explicitly rejected this long-standing Commission view, and held that a party committee may make independent expenditures. There is no longer any presumption that a party committee is incapable of making independent and coordinated expenditures.

This committee went to great lengths to comply with the dictates of that opinion and applicable provisions of the Act and Commission regulations. The committee hired an outside consultant to manage and conduct the independent operation. We required the consultant to sign an affidavit confirming that he had not had any contact with the campaign. His contract contained similar language, requiring him to adhere to applicable Commission regulations (which were provided to the consultant), and requiring strict independence. In sum, he had sole authority and control over the operation (save for legal review), and was completely firewalled off from both the campaign and NRCC staff. As an added precaution, committee staff were notified internally of the necessity of maintaining independence.

Nor do I agree with your assertion that "any expenditure which does not qualify as an independent expenditure is considered an in-kind contribution." You omit critical language contained in 11 C.F.R. 109.1(e): "unless otherwise exempted." Coordinated party expenditures are one such exempted expenditure, and the limitations once applicable to such expenditures have been found to be unconstitutional by the District Court of Colorado upon remand from the U.S. Supreme Court. FEC v. Colorado Republican Federal Campaign Committee, 41 F. Supp. 1197 (1999). Thus, even if this committee had chosen to coordinate the expenditure at issue, it could have done so, without limitation.

If you have any questions or concerns please contact me at 202/479-7027.

Sincerely,

Donna M. Anderson
