Dear Doctor Weldon,:

As Vice Chairman of the Harris Corporation Federal Political Action Committee (FEPAC), it is my pleasure to enclose a contribution to your campaign in the amount of $15,000.$5,000 is for your primary debt reduction and $5000 for your primary run-off debt reduction. The additional $5000 is for the General Election. As you know, FEPAC is an association of senior management employees of Harris Corporation and its domestic subsidiaries, who have chosen to become actively involved in the political process. FEPAC also has qualified as a multicandidate committee in accordance with 11CFR 102.3 and 110.2.

FEPAC exists to encourage the nomination and election of well-qualified, responsible candidates for federal public office who support the preservation of the free enterprise system. This philosophy has been set forth in the enclosed "Criteria For Determining Candidates to be supported by the Harris Federal Political Action Committee." You have been selected as a recipient of this contribution based on FEPAC's belief that your position on the issues of importance in today's world and your personal philosophy are substantially in agreement with FEPAC's philosophy.

We are happy to support you in this manner, and wish you a successful campaign.

Very truly yours,

F. J. Lewis
Vice Chairman

Dear Mr. Andre':

Your letters of November 17, 1993, referenced as above are hereby acknowledged. Before amending our reports in the manner you suggest, I would first like to explain and clarify the way our earmarked contributions are accumulated.

Earmarked contributions may be accumulated in two ways. The first is by payroll deduction where an incremental amount would be withheld from every pay check until the total authorized amount has been attained. At this time a check would be forwarded to the selected candidate. This process could take a period of two years, although one is preferable. The second method is whereby an employee requests funds donated over a period of three years be moved from the monies they have contributed to the discretionary fund and earmarked for a specific candidate.

In view of the way which these monies are designated and accumulated incrementally, it is probable that these employees would not appear on schedule "A".

Should you need additional information to clarify this matter or should you still feel we need to somehow amend our April, July, and October Quarterly Report, please advise either Ms. Pat Wilks at (407) 724-3993 or me at (407) 727-9237.

Very truly yours,
