Re: Misidentified contributions to Committee for the Preservation of Capitalism

Dear Mr. Grieser:

This law firm represents the California Portland Cement Company Political Action Committee ("CPC-PAC"). During a recent review of contributions made and received by CPC-PAC we discovered that two contributions made by the Florida Power & Light Company Employees Political Action Committee ("FPL PAC") were erroneously reported by you as made to CPC-PAC. We believe the true identity of the recipient of your contributions is the Committee for the Preservation of Capitalism.

As a result of the misreported contributions, the Federal Election Commission ("FEC") Internet website displays CPC-PAC as the recipient of contributions from FPL PAC. As you know, federal law prohibits separate segregated funds (i.e. company-sponsored PACs) from receiving contributions from outside a narrow classification of individuals, including other PACs.

After speaking with representatives of the FEC, we have determined that because no committee identification number was included on your reports of the contributions, the FEC used the name on the recipient line to identify the recipient. As the attached documents show, you used the name "CPC-PAC" to report the contributions. Because California Portland Cement Company Political Action Committee is the legitimate holder of the "CPC-PAC" designation, the contributions were attributed as received by CPC-PAC, not the Committee for the Preservation of Capitalism.

According to FEC representatives, in order to remove CPC-PAC as the designated recipient of your contributions, your period reports must be amended to show either the committee identification number or proper name identification for the Committee for the Preservation of Capitalism. It is critical that this be accomplished as soon as possible. If not, the FEC's website will continue to show what amounts to the making of illegal contributions.

Thank you for your attention to this matter. Please feel free to contact me should you have any questions or require additional information.

Very Truly Yours,

Brian T. Hildeeth
