This is a letter to detail the committees compliance with the Best-Efforts requirements. The committee maintains and report information required by law with respect to itemized receipts and disbursements. When reporting information is incomplete, the committees and the treasurer use Best Efforts to obtain, maintain and report the needed information. The committee requests the information with all solicitation materials. These materials include electronic and written materials. Electronic donation platforms require the information to be submitted with a donation.

The committees use a variety of tactics to obtain the information if the donor has not provided the information, or the information is incomplete, or if the committees suspect the information to be inaccurate.

1.If the contributor does not provide sufficient reporting information when making a contribution, the committees make at least one request for the information after the contribution is received. This follow-up request is made for any solicited or unsolicited contribution that exceeds the $200 threshold and lacks the necessary information.

a.The request is made within 30 days of receipt of the contribution; the request does not include an additional solicitation or material on any other subject. The follow-up requests are made via postal mailing.

b.Donors are sometimes emailed (when an email is available) but are always sent a written request.

2.The request is sent accompanied by a pre-addressed envelope for the response. Requests made by telephone are documented in a donor memorandum. The committees retains these records of follow-up requests.

3.Occasionally the committees use information from prior records when the donor does not respond to the follow-up request. If the committee possesses the information in its contributor records, fundraising records or prior reports filed during the same election cycle, then the committee will use that information when disclosing the contribution.

4.In addition, the committees request the information an additional time with a second mailing.

5.Electronic contributions where donors submit and enter their own employer/occupation information are thoroughly reviewed by the committees.

6.To ensure contribution thresholds are accurate, the committee is dedicated and diligent in keeping records clear of duplicates.

The committee constantly reviews and merges donors who electronically come into the system. In addition, the committee reviews the employer/occupation records the donors enter into the system for accuracy. If an entry appears inaccurate a notice is sent to the donor.

The committee is fully dedicated to complying with FEC regulations and makes great efforts to ensure the accuracy of all information.
