At this time we would like to apologize to the FEC for the late filing of our April Quarterly report. We attempted to file the report on the deadline date of April 15, 2013. It did not come to our attention until the morning of April 16, 2013 that the initial filing had been rejected by the FEC due to the name of one of our committee's particular PAC contributors exceeding the maximum characters allowed by the FEC. Our FEC reporting software did not show this error and the report had passed all validations on our end which is we were not immediately aware of the FEC rejection of the initial filing. After working with our software company today, April 16, 2013, we were able to shorten the name of the PAC contributor to acceptable limits and our software company is working on assuring that the error is caught by the software in the future. The April Quarterly has been filed and accepted by the FEC. Going forward we will take measures to make sure this does not happen again.
