This e-filing is in response to the Federal Election Commission's letter of March 2, 2017 to our committee. Specifically, the FEC letter indicates that a 48-hour report was filed on July 9, 2016 when it should have been reported by July 1, 2016. The expenditure under discussion was not reported by July 1st because the recipient of this payment failed to notify the committee when they made a public communication using these funds. The committee was working with a production company, Art Not War, to produce and disseminate social media communications to the public in support of Presidential Candidate Hillary Clinton. The committee made an initial payment of $30,000 on June 29th to Art Not War, and advised that group that the committee is required to report the amount they received to the Federal Election Commission within 48 hours of the placement of a social media communication online accessible to the general public that advocated the election of Hillary Clinton. At the time of the committee made its June 29th payment to Art Not War, the committee was advised that no public communications had yet been made, and that our committee would be notified on the day Art Not War placed a communication online. In preparing the Quarterly FEC 3X report, the committee again asked Art Not War if public communications had been made using the June 29th payment. At that time, July 9th, the committee was advised that Art Not War had actually started making public social media communications on receipt of the committee's funds, and that Art Not War had forgotten to notify the committee of this fact. Upon learning this information, the Committee immediately e-filed the 48 hour notice.
