

RE: Common Sense Issues, Inc. - C90009739

To Whom it May Concern:

Please note that the Form 5 filed on October 31, 2008 by Common Sense Issues, Inc., FEC committee C90009739 ('the Committee'), for the covering period October 24, 2008 through October 27, 2008, should be substituted for the blank report posted on the Federal Election Commission ('FEC') website under the Committee's name and committee number on October 27, 2008. For reasons unknown to the Committee and beyond the Committee's control, the report posted on the FEC website is not what the Committee filed on October 27, 2008 and does not display any of the information that the Committee filed on October 27, 2008, but rather displays a blank Form 5. Immediately after discovering the error on the FEC website on the morning of October 31, 2008, I spoke with Ken Lally in the FEC's electronic filing office and the FEC analyst assigned to the Committee, Chris Jones. Mr. Lally and Mr. Jones were unsure what caused this error in the filing system. Mr. Jones advised me to have the Committee submit an additional report disclosing the information again, exactly as it was filed on October 27, 2008. Thus, please accept the Form 5 filed on October 31, 2008 for the covering period October 24, 2008 through October 27, 2008 in lieu of the posting that is currently on the FEC website under the Committee's name and committee number and dated October 27, 2008.
