

The committee recently reviewed financial records dating back to 2004 to reconcile the committee's bank account and FEC report balances. The committee has amended its reports in order to correct the public record and bring the FEC report cash balance in line with the bank account.