Please note that we have identified three individuals with potential excessive contributions included in this report. For two of these individuals, refunds have been processed and will be reported on the 2016 February monthly FEC report. For the third individual a refund is in process, but if it is determined that the contribution was in fact not excessive, will not be completed. Some earmarked contributions received at the end of this reporting period were disbursed the first week of the following reporting period. therefore, those earmarked receipts are reported on this report, while the disbursements will appear on the next report. This report includes several instances where conduit contributors provided only partial employer and/or occupation information. Please note that most of these conduit contributors are below the 'in excess of $200' threshold requiring reporting of occupation and employer information for conduit contributors. See 11 CFR 110.6(c)(1)(iv)(A). Our policy is to send a follow-up communication to all contributors in excess of the $200 threshold. Earmarked contributions over $2700 are allocated as appropriate between respective Primary and General elections by the candidates.

Purpose of Disbursement	Refund of Contribution
1. Operating Expenses: The primary purpose of the disbursement is to cover the day-to-day costs of running the business, such as salaries, rent, utilities, and materials. These expenses are necessary for the business to generate revenue and are not directly tied to a specific contribution. 2. Capital Expenditures: Disbursements used for purchasing or improving long-term assets, such as equipment, vehicles, or real estate, are considered capital expenditures. These costs are typically spread out over the useful life of the asset through depreciation or amortization. 3. Debt Repayment: Disbursements used to pay back loans or other forms of debt are considered debt repayment. These payments are necessary to maintain the business's creditworthiness and ensure its long-term viability. 4. Dividend Payments: Disbursements made to shareholders or members of the business as a return on their investment are considered dividend payments. These payments are typically made out of the business's profits and are not directly tied to a specific contribution.	1. Refund of Principal: If the business has received a contribution from a shareholder or member, the disbursement is used to refund the principal amount of the contribution. This is typically done when the business is liquidated or when the shareholder/member requests a refund. 2. Refund of Interest: If the business has received a contribution from a shareholder or member, the disbursement is used to refund the interest accrued on the contribution. This is typically done when the business is liquidated or when the shareholder/member requests a refund. 3. Refund of Dividends: If the business has received a contribution from a shareholder or member, the disbursement is used to refund the dividends paid to the shareholder/member. This is typically done when the business is liquidated or when the shareholder/member requests a refund. 4. Refund of Capital: If the business has received a contribution from a shareholder or member, the disbursement is used to refund the capital contributed by the shareholder/member. This is typically done when the business is liquidated or when the shareholder/member requests a refund.
