9-9-9 FUND

MISCELLANEOUS REPORT - FORM 99

YEAR-END REPORT (10/01/2013 - 12/31/2013)

DISPUTED DEBT

The 9-9-9 Fund hired a telemarketing firm to make phone calls, as Independent Expenditures in support of Republican Presidential Candidate Herman Cain leading up to the Republican Presidential Primaries. A schedule of calls was coordinated between the Committee and an account representative for the telemarketing firm.

Based upon a developed schedule, the committee reported the estimated expenditures as required, but never received an invoice. It was later discovered that the work purported to be performed under the direction of the Account Representative, had not been done. Management at the telemarketing firm did an exhausted review of the situation; they relieved the Account Representative of his duties and finally waived any fee because the discrepancy between what was scheduled to be done and what actually was done was do great.
