

In response to FEC letter dated July 14:

The report was amended because additional financial information was not originally accessible and the bank statements were not available at the time, so once this was discovered the reports were amended. Steps have been taken to prevent this and we now have access to the bank accounts through online banking.
