In reference to the RFAI for our March monthly 2012 report, we were asked to respond to four items:

1. Corrected within the report.
2. ?Consulting? should have been displayed as ?Political Strategy Consulting?
3. The employees listed as spending less than 25% of their time on federal candidates, were not engaging in any federal election activity, nor were they advocating the support or opposition for any federal candidate.
4. All ?robo calls? and ?Robocalls? done during the month of February did not advocate for any federal candidate, nor were they connected to any federal election. They do not qualify as federal election activity. ?Voter file consulting? should have been listed as ?Political Strategy Consulting.?
