RE: Request for Additional Information?Standing Up for California?s Middle Class (Committee ID # C00572610)

Dear Ms. Hay:

I write to you in response to an inquiry I received on behalf of my client, Standing Up for California?s Middle Class (ID # C00572610).

The inquiry requests clarification on $20,000 in debts disclosed on an amended July quarterly report filed with the FEC in March 2017.

The additional expenses included on the amended July quarterly report were for invoices related to general consulting and travel expenses, none of which were allocable to an independent expenditure for or against a particular candidate. Failure to disclose the invoices timely on campaign reports resulted from a miscommunication between the vendor and committee representatives. When the committee later discovered that the invoices were unpaid and unreported, it immediately amended its reports to disclose the expenses. The expenses disclosed on the amended report constitute approximately two percent of the committee?s total expenditures in 2016. The overwhelming majority of expenses incurred and paid by the committee were timely disclosed.

If you have additional questions regarding the amendment to disclose these accrued expenses, please do not hesitate to contact me.

Very truly yours,
OLSON HAGEL & FISHBURN LLP
