When Avaaz Foundation was reviewing the Oct 15th Quarterly Report Submitted (FEC-1105473) we noticed a few accidental inconsistencies and omissions that we have corrected in the amended quarterly. We have made corrections to the following independent expenditures: For "Revolution Messaging, LLC.", the date has been corrected on the quarterly report for September 6th, 2016. For "P. Dale", we have amended the type of vendor to an individual and further specified the description of expenses. For "Pinney, Rob", we have further specified the description of expenses. We have also included a previously omitted expenditure for $943.52 to individual Estrada Gonzalez, Raul. Unfortunately the invoice was misplaced and not recorded in an original 48 hour report. The 48 hour report that this omitted independent expenditure would have been included in was filed via the online form and therefore cannot be amended in the database.

We also noticed several dates that were correct on the quarterly but were accidentally filed with incorrect dates on the 48 hour reports. The 48 hour reports filed for these independent expenditures were filed via the online form and therefore cannot be amended in the database. The correct dates for each independent expenditure and the corresponding 48 hour report IDs are as follows: For vendor "ParUno", submitted on September 27th's 48 hour report, FEC - 1101442, had the incorrect date of distribution. The quarterly was submitted with the correct date of September 25th. For vendor "SuperAma", submitted on September 27th's 48 hour report, FEC - 1101442, had the incorrect date of distribution. The quarterly was submitted with the correct date of September 25th. For vendor "The Other 98% Action", submitted on September 30th's 48 hour report, FEC -1101793, had the incorrect date of distribution. The quarterly was submitted with the correct date of September 23rd.

Avaaz Foundation has recognized the mistakes and errors and plans to do stricter monitoring of expenses as well as be more careful with entering information for the 24 hour reporting cycle.
