The Form 5 year-end report due January 31 that I filed today using the filing software lists organizations as individuals. The software does not allow contributions from organizations; it allows only contributions from individuals. A reports analyst suggested I enter the organizations as individuals and then submit this form explaining why. I bless him for thinking outside the box.

I did download the software yesterday but the person in the electronic filing office told me I could not use it since it didn't allow for contributions from organizations. So I began entering the report using the web form but twice the session timed out waiting for a new schedule E to download and I was unable to finish it in time.
