Reference: October Monthly Report (9/1/96-9/30/96)

Dear Ms. Yancey:

On March 5, 1997 you were notified that a review of the above-referenced report(s) raised questions as to specific contributions and/or expenditures, and the reporting of certain information required by the Federal Election Campaign Act.

Your March 20, 1997 response is incomplete because you have not provided all the requested information. For this response to be considered adequate, the following information is still required.

-Schedule B supporting Line 23 of your report discloses a contribution(s) to a candidate(s) for the Primary election; however, the funds were disbursed after the Primary election date. Please note that contributions may not be designated for an election which has already occurred unless the funds are to be used to reduce a candidate committee's debts incurred during that election campaign. Please clarify the contribution(s) and disclose any redesignations or refunds as necessary on the appropriate schedules.

If this information is not received by the Commission within fifteen (15) days from the date of this notice, the Commission may choose to initiate audit or legal enforcement action.

If you should have any questions related to this matter, please contact Army Reynolds on our toll-free number (800) 424-9530 or our local number (202) 219-3580.

Sincerely,

The first part of the document discusses the importance of maintaining accurate records of all transactions. It emphasizes that every sale, purchase, and transfer must be properly documented to ensure compliance with tax laws and to provide a clear audit trail. The text also highlights the need for regular reconciliation of accounts to identify any discrepancies early on.

In the second section, the author provides a detailed overview of the various types of business expenses that are deductible for tax purposes. This includes a list of common categories such as advertising, travel, and office supplies, along with specific rules and limitations that apply to each. The goal is to help business owners maximize their deductions and minimize their tax liability.

The third part of the document focuses on the importance of staying up-to-date with changes in tax legislation. It notes that tax laws are constantly evolving, and businesses must be proactive in monitoring these changes to adjust their financial strategies accordingly. The author also provides resources for finding the most current tax information.

Finally, the document concludes with a series of practical tips and recommendations for business owners. These include suggestions for working with a professional accountant, maintaining organized records, and reviewing tax returns carefully before filing. The overall message is one of diligence and attention to detail in managing a business's financial affairs.
