October 21, 2008

Dear Mr. Buckley:

My apologies for the late response to your inquiry on September 12, 2008. As we have previously discussed, my late response is due to an error I made that prevented me from opening the FECfile file until I had assistance from the technical support department.

This note addresses your notices from September 12, 2008, regarding the April and July 2008 quarterly reports. I have enclosed the requested information as memo text under the relevant entries.

The first item regarding the July quarterly report may require further clarification. 80-20 has always used PNC Bank, and continues to use it. I believe there may be a mix up because of the way we have entered the data, but we have not changed banks. The information should also be unchanged since in our entries, we did not change PNC Bank's address or other information.

Thank you for your understanding.

Sincerely,

Jing-Li Yu
