Re: Tarrant County Republican Victory Fund
C00406645

We have recently reviewed the affiliation of the Tarrant County Republican Victory Fund, a local party, with the Republican Party of Texas, the state party.

The local party operates independently of the state party in disbursements, receipts, and day-to-day business. There is no overlap of officers in these organizations, and the state party has no control over the local party's operations. The local party does not receive funds from the state party.

We conclude from these facts there is no affiliation between the local party and the state party and have submitted a revised Form 1 to remove the previously reported affiliation.

Please let me know if you have any questions.
