Figure 1. A schematic diagram of the experimental setup. The light source (laser) emits a beam that passes through a lens and a polarizer. The beam is directed onto a beam splitter, which splits the beam into two paths. One path is reflected by a mirror and passes through a lens and a polarizer. The other path is reflected by a mirror and passes through a lens and a polarizer. The two paths converge at a point where they are imaged onto a camera.
