For donors itemized on our 3rd Quarter report with identified occupation and employer fields listed as BEST EFFORTS our procedures for obtaining information to enable us to make a true and accurate reporting include the following:

If an individual who has contributed more than $200 during the election cycle fails to provide the required recordkeeping information (name, mailing address, occupation, and employer) the Committee will make best efforts to obtain, maintain and report that information. The best efforts the Committee makes to obtain and report the required recordkeeping information regarding contributions include the following:

The following written solicitation notice, or similar a similar written notice to this effect, is clearly and conspicuously included on the online donation page of the committee's campaign website, and the required recordkeeping information (name, mailing address, occupation, and employer) are required fields that must be filled in by the contributor before the contribution can be processed:

Federal law requires us to use our best efforts to collect and report the name, address, occupation, and employer of individuals whose contribution exceeds $200 in an election cycle.

By clicking Donate, I certify that the following statements are true and accurate:

- I am a U.S. Citizen or lawfully admitted permanent resident
- This contribution is made from my personal funds, not from an account maintained by a corporation, labor union, or national bank, and is not being reimbursed by another person or entity.
- I am not a federal government contractor.

The maximum amount an individual may contribute is $2,900 per election. Your contribution (up to $2,900) will be designated for the primary election. The next $2,900 will be designated for the general election.

Contributions to Lauren Boebert for Congress are not tax deductible for federal income tax purposes. Contributions from corporations, labor unions, federal contractors, and foreign nationals are prohibited.

For solicitations by mail or in connection with campaign fundraising events, the following written solicitation notice, or similar a similar written notice to this effect, is clearly and conspicuously included on the donation reply form that is included in all solicitations made by mail or distributed in connection with campaign fundraising events: Contributions are not tax-deductible as charitable contributions for federal income tax purposes.

Contributions are limited to $5,800 per person ($2,900 for the primary election and $2,900 for the general election). Couples' contributions are limited to a maximum of $11,600 and require two signatures below. Federal multicandidate PACs may contribute $5,000 per election. Contributions by corporations, foreign nationals (non-green card holders), labor unions, and federal government contractors are prohibited.

Federal law requires us to obtain and report the name, mailing address, occupation, and name of employer for each individual whose contributions aggregate in excess of $200 per election cycle.

If the contributor does not provide sufficient reporting information at the time the contribution is made, or if the required recordkeeping information regarding the contributor is not provided by an intermediary or other fundraising method or platform that is not under the direct control of the Committee, authorized representatives of the Committee or the Committee's Treasurer make initial efforts to obtain and report contributor information based upon contributor records available to the Committee, including information contained in prior reports filed by the Committee or by other committees during the same election cycle.

If sufficient contributor reporting information still cannot be obtained or identified with a reasonable degree of certainty prior to the filing deadline of the next campaign finance disclosure report, the missing information fields will be marked "information requested? in the report.

One or more attempts will be made to contact the contributor by phone, by email, or by U.S. mail within thirty days of the receipt of contributions that exceed the $200 threshold and lack the necessary information. Such follow-up requests that are made in writing (by email or by U.S. mail) will not include an additional solicitation or material on other subjects, and will include a mechanism for the donor to reply via email or in writing with an enclosed form and pre-addressed reply envelope.

If requested information about a contribution is received by the Committee's Treasurer after the contribution has already been disclosed on a report, the Committee will either: a) file a memo Schedule A in connection with its next regularly scheduled campaign finance disclosure report, listing all contributions for which new contributor information has been subsequently received; or b) file amendments to the original disclosure reports.
