A diagram of a rectangular frame structure. It consists of two horizontal beams at the top and bottom, connected by ten vertical supports. The top beam has a small square support at each end and at each of the eight vertical support locations. The bottom beam has a small square support at each of the eight vertical support locations. The vertical supports are represented by short vertical lines with small squares at their base and top, indicating they are pinned or fixed at those points.

The diagram shows a rectangular building layout. A central horizontal corridor runs through the middle. On both the top and bottom sides of this corridor, there are several rectangular rooms. The rooms are arranged in a regular pattern, with a small square area (possibly a doorway or a small room) at the end of each corridor segment. The overall shape is a large rectangle with internal divisions creating a grid-like structure.
