A diagram of a rectangular frame structure. It consists of two horizontal members (top and bottom) and ten vertical members. The top horizontal member is supported by a pin support on the left and a roller support on the right. The bottom horizontal member is supported by a pin support on the left and a roller support on the right. There are ten vertical members, each connected to the top and bottom horizontal members. The joints are represented by small squares at the intersections of the members. There are 20 joints in total: 10 on the top horizontal member, 10 on the bottom horizontal member, and 0 on the vertical members (as they are connected to the horizontal members).
