Kean for Congress Inc (KFC) receives a fair amount of contributions from non-federal committees due to the fact that its candidate is the State Senate Minority Leader in NJ. We vet extremely carefully all contributions from non-federal committees. They must adhere to the required regulations to not contribute more than $1000 per calendar year to all federal candidates/committees combined, and they must make sure they have enough permissible federal funds to make said contribution.

KFC captures this information in an attestation statement signed by the contributing committee's treasurer (sample below) before we accept the funding.

I hope this information clarifies why we have perhaps more than average from non-federal committees and the procedures in place to make sure they are all valid.

RE: Contribution to Kean for Congress

Thank you for wanting to support Kean for Congress!

Per Federal Election Commission regulations, we are only allowed to accept a maximum of $1,000 from a campaign committee per calendar year. This limit includes ALL funds contributed to any Federal Candidate in a calendar year. For example, if your committee gave $500 in January to John Doe for US Senate, then the maximum you can contribute to Kean for Congress in 2020 would be an additional $500.

Additionally, we must have an affidavit signed by the Treasurer of the campaign committee that verifies there are enough personal contributions in the committee to cover the donation made.
