The purpose of this Miscellaneous Text is to provide an update on the litigation referenced in the Committee's Miscellaneous Text (FEC Form 99) that was filed on July 14, 2022 (the "July Form 99"), and steps taken by the Committee to request redesignations and reattributions of primary contributions, and to make required refunds of primary contributions.

The Court issued a decision on August 2, 2022, denying the plaintiffs' request for injunctive relief that, if granted, could have resulted in a Democratic primary for Connecticut's 1st Congressional district. The plaintiffs did not file an appeal from the Court's decision by August 22, 2022, the last day on which an appeal could have been filed in accordance with Connecticut law. As a result, on August 22, 2022, it became certain that there would not be a Democratic primary.

Consistent with the July Form 99, our Campaign continued to accept contributions designated for the 2022 primary, and we have reported such contributions as such on the October 15 Quarterly Report (07/01/2022-09/30/2022) (the 'October Quarterly Report'). Undesignated contributions have been reported as made for the 2022 general election.

Consistent with the July Form 99, the Committee requested redesignations and reattributions of certain primary contributions, and refunded those primary contributions that were not redesignated or reattributed and that were required to be refunded.

Each redesignation of an individual contribution is reported as three memo entries on line 11(a) on Schedule A on the October Quarterly Report.

To avoid unnecessary confusion for PAC contributors, the Committee requested redesignations of PAC contributions only when those contributions were received during the period covered by the October Quarterly Report, and therefore the original contribution is reported as such on line 11(c) of Schedule A, with two corresponding memo entries referencing the redesignations reported on line 11(c) of Schedule A.

Each refund is reported as a Disbursement on line 20(a) or 20(c), as applicable, of Schedule B of the October Quarterly Report, along with a memo entry on line 11(a) or 11(c), as applicable, of Schedule A

Refunds will be made for any contributions for which the Committee does not receive an outstanding requested redesignation not later than October 22, 2022, which is 60 days after it became certain that there would not be a primary. and we are continuing to keep sufficient funds on hand to make any such refunds that could be required.

In the course of identifying those primary contributions that are required to be refunded, redesignated or reattributed, the Committee identified certain contributions for which the election designation in previously filed FEC reports required correction, and we are amending our reports to provide the correct designations. The Committee has instituted new compliance oversight procedures to further insure that our reports correctly indicate the elections for which contributions are made.
